A grid of Japanese characters on a light blue background. The characters are arranged in a grid pattern, with each character occupying a specific cell. The characters are written in a light blue color that matches the background. The grid is composed of 10 columns and 10 rows, creating a total of 100 cells. The characters are placed in a specific pattern, with some characters appearing in multiple cells. The overall effect is a repeating pattern of Japanese characters on a light blue background.
